Dear Hiring Managers,

I am interested to have the illustrator position as I have been always passionate about my dream as an artistic creative person and a great illustrator. I am a fresh Undergraduate Graphic Designer In Raffles Design Institute Singapore and keen to work in your Studio Company.

With the combination of finely honed drawing skills and experience of over 10 years , I believe I can make the best fit to become your next Illustrator. I am proficient in drawing in various mediums such as pencil, or digitally. I am outlining my current role responsibilities for your consideration. My ability for having the essential design skills that people are looking for in the future of the art industry by having specialized in Meeting with clients and understand their requirements, Create sample designs for the clients, Incorporate the suggestions proposed by the clients and Negotiate with the clients over the cost. I can also incorporate my view and style to the client's wants and work under deadlines.

Along with the knowledges and designs skills combined, I am willing to improve and work together with the company. I would like and appreciate to get an interview as your arrangement and time.

Sincerely,

Jason
